Suitable for readers in secondary schools

Catherine's War by Julia Billet, illustrated by Claire Fauvel, translated by Ivanka Hahnenberger 2020

Rachel Cohen has discovered her passion—photography. Although she hasn't heard from her parents in months, she loves the people at her school, adores capturing what she sees in pictures, and tries not to worry too much about Hitler's war. But as France buckles under the Nazi regime, danger closes in, and Rachel must change her name and go into hiding. Inspired by a true survival story that asks universal questions about a young girl's coming of age.

New Kid by Jerry Craft 2019 series

Seventh grader Jordan Banks loves nothing more than drawing cartoons about his life. But instead of sending him to the art school of his dreams, his parents enrol him in a prestigious private school known for its academics, where Jordan is one of the few kids of colour in his entire grade. Jordan soon finds himself torn between two worlds—and not really fitting into either one.

Anya's Ghost by Vera Brosgol 2011

Anya could really use a friend. But her new BFF isn't kidding about the "Forever" part . . . Of all the things Anya expected to find at the bottom of an old well, a new friend was not one of them. Especially not a new friend who's been dead for a century. Falling down a well is bad enough, but Anya's normal life might actually be worse. She's embarrassed by her family, self-conscious about her body, and she's pretty much given up on fitting in at school. A new friend—even a ghost—is just what she needs. Or so she thinks.

Page by Paige by Laura Lee Gulledge 2011

Paige Turner has just moved to New York with her family, and she's having some trouble adjusting to the big city. In the pages of her sketchbook, she tries to make sense of her new life, including trying out her secret identity: artist. As she makes friends and starts to explore the city, she slowly brings her secret identity out into the open, a process that is equal parts terrifying and rewarding.

One Year at Ellsmere by Faith Erin Hicks 2020

Was boarding school supposed to be this hard? When studious thirteen-year-old Juniper wins a scholarship to the prestigious Ellsmere Academy, she expects to find a scholastic utopia. But living at Ellsmere is far from ideal: She is labelled a “special project,” Ellsmere's queen bee is out to destroy her, and it’s rumoured that a mythical beast roams the forest next to the school.
